Lokoja | March 2021 - November 2021

- Diagnosed, repaired, and maintained computer hardware, software, and network systems to keep client technology functioning optimally.

PROJECTS

Image-Assisted Biometric Identification Model Using Convolutional Neural Network (CNN) | 2024 | Hugging Face

- Developed a machine learning model that processes digital images to automatically identify, classify, and analyze specific target objects using Python.
- The captured and stored images are processed using Retina Face to detect and align the faces, both images are passed through the facenet model to generate embeddings.
- The cosine similarity between the embeddings is calculated to determine an image match (ranges from -1 to 1).
- The model was tested with a dataset of student images correctly matching students with their stored images.
- The biometric Identification is applicable in any system such as IT firms, CBT centers, Banks etc.
